

Working on Major Holidays is Voluntary

You don't have to work on Christmas Day (December 25th) or Thanksgiving Day (Varies by Year) if you don't want to. We actually prefer you spend time with family, friends, or take the day off. However, you can still work if you choose, just let Maggie know ahead of time. Pay for either of these days is 25% more on your base hourly.

These are the only major holidays we make working voluntary. Generally, these two days are slow anyway, so having more than one person doesn't make sense. Christmas Eve and New Years Eve are excluded, because we don't normally work at night. If you need additional time off, please refer to the link on your portal about time off. You can work from anywhere if the internet is fast and stable.
